

Voting Machines, Board And City Races, Tuesday

A congressional race, the history-making introduction of voting machines into the city, a hot city commissioner's race, a mild city school board race in the face of a $146,000 deficit in county school board race in the face of a $146,000 deficit in the treasury, have combined to make Tuesday's election one of the most unusual and most unpredictable in this county's history.

In the city, voters will narrow down to two the four candidates for city commissioner, who will fill vacancies created by the last session of Kentucky legislature when the Board of Commissioners was increased from three to five.

Two of the commissioner candidates this week got endorsement from City Commissioner George Feltner, when Feltner went on record as favoring Don Fouts, Hazard restaurant owner and Robert Ken Terry, an employee of a local funeral home. Feltner also went on record as opposing the sewer bond issue.

The other two candidates in the city race are Willie Dawahare, Hazard merchant, and Fred Combs, part-owner of a automotive supply store here and a former county judge.

Dawahare led the ticket in the September primary. Combs ran second; Fouts, third, and Terry, fourth. Just what'll happen Tuesday, however, few if any voters are even venturing a guess.

City voters will also cast their ballots on a sewer bond question asking:

"Shall the City of Hazard incur indebtedness in the sum of Five Hundred Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($525,000) and issue and sell therefore its General Obligation Bonds, payable as to both principal and interest from unlimited taxation, for the purpose of paying all or part of the cost of providing sewer improvements, including a sewage treatment plant, and all expenses incident thereto?" Voter will move handles indicating a "yes" or "no" vote.

Move handles? Another innovation for city voters, who when they go to the polls Tuesday will find voting machines instead of the old paper ballots. Precinct officers have been trained to instruct voters in the machines.

While a congressional race is on hand, little if any enthusiasm has been generated locally by the two candidates making their bid for the office. Most observers generally concede that Democratic incumbent Carl Perkins, of Hindman, will hold on to his seat from the Seventh District. He is being challenged by Republican candidate E. L. "Bud" Rayburn, of Olive Hill.

Although the race for the city school board is out of the public eye, three candidates are seeking two vacancies on the board. They are Clyde Leveridge, Herman Maggard, and H. B. Noble.

In the county, the school board race is an election of another complexion, because of the deficit.

In Division No. 5, incumbent George Caudill, board chairman, is seeking re-election, and has opposition from Lester Halcomb and Bill Farler. In Division No. 4, George Wash Combs, the incumbent, has opposition from Ed Jewett Combs and Homer Fagues.

Attorney Charges Agent Engineered Arrest Yesterday

Calvin Manis, a Hazard attorney and owner of a local beer distributing firm, charged this morning that Alcoholic Beverage Agent Paul Fugate engineered his arrest in Pike County last week, and in Knott County yesterday, because Fugate was fired last year by the State Highway Department.

Manis said that Fugate was misinformed that he (Manis) could have prevented Fugate's discharge by the department. Fugate lost his Highway Department job on Dec. 30 for disciplinary reasons. He was hired a short time later by State Alcoholic Beverage Commissioner Alfred Portwood as an A.B.C. agent. Manis and Fugate are both active in local Democratic politics.

State highway department records show that Fugate was fired after an investigation of possible irregularities, including the use of State material to build his home at Chavies.

Tipped Off

Manis said that following his trial and that of his driver's in Pike County yesterday, he was tipped off by State Police to not return to Hazard through Knott County because Fugate would be waiting to arrest him there.

Manis was fined $14 in Pike County Court yesterday morning for speeding. His driver was fined $100 when he pleaded guilty to charges of "delivery after hours."

Manis said he made no deliveries in Pike County. Following the trial, he and his driver returned to Hazard by way of Letcher County, with him driving the truckload of 305 cases of beer, and his truck driver driving a car.

Arrested in Pike

The two were arrested last Thursday night in Pike County by State Police. Although the Pikeville office of the State Police said Monday that Manis had been charged with "illegal transportation," Manis said this morning that this charge was never placed against him. Pike County officials could not be reached by phone for comment.

Manis gave this account of the incidents leading up to last week's arrest.

He said he left Hazard driving a car he was to drop off en route and with his driver driving the truck. The switched vehicles between here and Hindman. Manis said, because he was having trouble with the car and wanted his driver, a "mechanic," to drive it.

At Hindman, late Thursday afternoon, he was stopped by a deputy sheriff and a State Patrolman. Following a delay while the State Patrolman "apparently checked to determine if I was a distributor," he was told to proceed on his way to Elkhorn City.

Calling on Firm

Manis said he was enroute to Elkhorn City with the beer to call on the Frank Mariano Distributing Co. He said he has been selling beer to the company for the past three years.

He said he was tailed by State Police all the way from Hindman to Blairtown, six miles north of Pikeville, where he was arrested, Thursday night.

Manis said that when State Police told him yesterday not to return by way of Knott Co., he came through Pikeville, Shelbyana, Virgie, Jenkins, and Whitesburg. He was arrested by Fugate and Knott County A.B.C. Agent Curt Hall on Route 7 between Cornettsville and Isom.

Company Requests
Manis said he had been requested to call on the Frank Mariano Distributing Co. by a Louisville brewery, and had an invoice for the beer. He said he wasn't given the opportunity to produce the invoices when arrested.

Neither the owner of the distributing company or the Pike County Attorney who prosecuted yesterday's trial were available by phone today for comment. See ATTORNEY, Page 5

Hazard Attendant

Miss Patsy Taylor Named Attendant

Patsy Helen Taylor, of Hazard, was selected as one of the Homecoming Queen's attendants during the Morehead State College activities recently.

Patsy, chosen by popular vote of the entire student body at the College, is a Senior majoring in Commerce. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Taylor and a 1955 graduate of Hazard High School.

Betty Sizemore, a junior Home Economics major from East Point, Kentucky, was chosen as the Queen of the day's activities which included the dedication of Lapping Hall, parade through downtown Morehead, alumni tea dance and reception, football game and student dance.

Patsy and nine other attendants, accompanied the Queen in all the day's activities. She is pictured above as she appeared in the parade. Her companion is Marna Carver and the driver is Bernie Cornett.

Call Meeting

A meeting will be held on Saturday, Nov. 1st, at the Perry County Court House, in behalf of the candidacy of Carl D. Perkins, who is seeking re-election to Congress.

4 Local Students Enroll At Centre

Four Hazard residents have enrolled at Centre College which has begun its 139th school year in Danville. Centre, a four-year college founded in 1819, is a liberal arts, coeducational institution.

The Hazard residents enrolled at Centre include Adrienne Best, Felix P. Farmer, Charles Johnson and Patrick M. Wood.

Miss Best, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Best of 109 Woodland Park, graduated in 1956 from Prince George's Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Farmer of Woodland Park, graduated in 1951 from Columbia Military Academy; Johnson, son of Mrs. Velma Johnson of 609 Maple Street, graduated in 1955 from Hazard High School; Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Wood of 607 Oakland Avenue, graduated in 1957 from Hazard High School.

Centre is unique in Kentucky in maintaining separate campuses for its women and men students but classes and social functions are held jointly. The school is Presbyterian-affiliated.

Long known for its high scholastic standards, Centre recently embarked on an even more rigid selective admissions in the face of sharply increasing enrollments throughout the Nation. Centre rejected a far greater number of freshmen applications this year than in any other year since prior to World War II.

Centre's ratio of one faculty member per every 12 students provides the opportunity for faculty personal attention to students.

Attention! Candidates

Political Ads

Monday's issue of the Herald is the last appearing before election day.

No political advertisements will be accepted for the Monday paper unless all candidates agree to the following Herald policies:

1. No new issues may be interjected into the campaign through an advertisement. Any candidate may reply to advertisements which have already appeared. The Herald reserves the right to determine if new issues are being interjected.

2. Candidates must agree to permit their opposition to read their advertisements in advance of publication, and will agree to give him the opportunity to reply, if necessary.

3. No political advertisements for Monday's paper will be accepted after 12 noon, Saturday. Candidates will have until 3 p.m. to check with the Herald to determine if there are any advertisements which they may want to read.

4. The Herald will accept no more than one advertisement from each candidate for Monday's paper. Space equal to the amount of the largest advertisement, and no more, will be allotted each candidate should he so desire.

These policies are set in the interests of all candidates and to prevent last minute charges from being interjected into the campaign through newspaper advertising.

State Official Says City May Lose $206,000 In Aid

Attorney Throws Wet Towel On Low-Cost Sewer System

Hazard stands to lose the $206,000 Federal grant on the sewage treatment plant if the city does not "go ahead and build it," William A. Lamkin Jr., an attorney for the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission, said here yesterday.

Lamkin was in town yesterday to see what plans the city has for a sewage treatment plant and for construction of the plant.

His comments came in an interview with a Hazard Herald reporter.

Tuesday, city voters decide whether the town is to build the plant when they cast their ballot on a $325,000 general obligation bond issue.

Lamkin said that if Hazard voters reject the bond issue, it will be up to the nine-man commission to decide what to do with the money that has been set aside for the plant. He noted that the commission has "a large number of communities," listing Corbin as one, anxious for the money and already prepared to use it.

The prospect of more money being available in the future depends on Congress, Lamkin replied in response to a question. He noted that the past session of Congress demonstrated that congressional sympathy for federal aid for sewer plants is diminishing.

Questioned about whether the cost of the local plant was in line, Lamkin replied: "If there was any known cheaper way" to construct the plant, "we (commission) would have told you about it."

He said the city "has chosen the most economical method for financing this system, and it is doubtful if the city can ever in the future build it as cheaply as they can now." He cited rising costs in construction as a reason for building now.

Of the sewer plant now under consideration by the City, Lamkin said it is designed for the City's present and future needs, and is the "only possible" solution for treating sewage here in Hazard.

The State official threw a wet towel on the "cavitation" systems, noting that "State experience is that they won't work." (The cavitation sewer plant is a low cost plant.)

Lamkin noted that since 1950 when the water pollution law was passed, the commission's work has been concentrated on the larger cities, but that the commission is now turning its attention to the problems of smaller cities and towns.

Questioned whether the city can be forced to construct a sewer plant, Lamkin replied that the State government can proceed against a community, even into the courts, to prevent a city from dumping sewage into the river. He added that complaints have been filed against three Northern Kentucky cities by the commission.

Health Board Endorses Sewer Bond Proposal

The Perry County Board of Health has gone on record as endorsing the sewage plant bond issue to be voted upon by city residents this Tuesday.

In a public statement issued this week, members of the board noted:

"We have gone on record before and we highly recommend the Bond Issue being voted on this November as the surest and cheapest way for Hazard to get an approved sewage plant. The Board of Health is glad to recommend to the voters of Hazard that a waste disposal system for Hazard is a must before we can expect industry, tourists and people to move to Hazard to live."

"The Kentucky Stream Pollution law requires that every City have an approved waste disposal system and we feel that this is the cheapest and surest way of meeting our legal obligations to the law and to have a healthier and safer place in which to live."

The statement was signed by Dr. Dana Snyder, Dr. F. H. Wagers, County Judge J. A. Smith, Dr. R. L. Collins and Mrs. Allie Gorman, all board members.

Jaycees To Work For Bond Issue

The sewer bond issue will get a helping hand on election day when Hazard Jaycees take to the precincts to drum up support for the $325,000 bond issue.

Jaycees last night voted to work the polls in behalf of the sewer bond issue. Two workers will be stationed in each of the city's six precincts to ask voters to endorse the bond issue—and to explain the proposal to voters.

Kiwanis Endorse Bond Proposal

The Hazard Kiwanis Club has voted endorsement of the sewer bond issue to be voted upon Nov. 4. Joe F. Brophy, club secretary, announced today.

Members voted approval during Tuesday's meeting at the V. F. W. Clubhouse.

Perkins Cites Record In Congress In Public Statement Made Here

Seventh District Congressman Carl Perkins this week cited his record in Congress in a public statement as he canvassed for re-election to office.

Perkins said:

As Congressman representing the Seventh District of Kentucky for the past ten years, it has been both my privilege and my duty as a member of the House Education and Labor Committee, to become intimately acquainted with the problems faced by our Educational program and the economic problems in the Labor-Management field.

Since 1949 I have recognized the serious difficulties faced by our Public School system and have made repeated efforts to obtain Federal Aid to Education. The last Federal Aid for School Construction measure lost by only five votes.

I introduced bills in the past Congress to provide a Federal Scholarship program and a Student Loan program. These were among the bills that were combined into the National Defense Educational Act of 1958, which provides for a federal-state program of loans to students in accredited colleges. This Act also provides for federal aid for science equipment in our local schools and certain other special studies.

The 85th Congress also approved an act to protect the integrity of our employee-employer welfare funds. Many other Labor-Management problems remain unsolved but I plan to continue my efforts to obtain legislation to protect the American workers from exploitation from all sources.

It has also been my privilege to help expand the Social Security program to provide for limited disability payments and increased monthly payments to our retired workers and their dependents. Coverage has been increased to include farmers, self employed business men, professional men, and in fact, almost all workers who earn their living either as an employee or as a self employed individual.

Soil and water conservation with reservoirs to prevent floods and retain adequate water for industrial uses during the dry seasons are a must.

The conservation of human resources through increased medical research and public health programs must be stepped up to meet the problem created by our increase in population. This includes provisions for adequate pure water supplies and modern sewage disposal units.

Our disabled servicemen have faced the difficulties created by the economy drive. Repeated efforts have been made to reduce the Veterans' medical hospital facilities and to reduce overall Veterans' expenditures by disallowing Veterans' claims even years after their original approval. Congress has refused to reduce the appropriations for Veterans' hospitals but now face the additional problem of preventing the Veterans Administration from removing disabled ex-servicemen from the compensation and pension rolls. This has been done without legislative approval by the simple device of a change in policy of the Veterans Administration which sometimes appears to violate the Veterans Act which provides that all doubts shall be resolved in favor of the veterans. This is not a problem that can be solved by a legislative act, but is rather one of persuading the officials of the Veterans Administration to follow the spirit of the Veterans Compensation and Pension Acts. As a veteran of World War II, I feel that I understand the problems faced by these disabled veterans and will continue my efforts in their behalf.

It is necessary that Congress provide the leadership to keep these programs going and at the same time, find sufficient funds to maintain our National Defense at a level which will prevent any foreign power from provoking an attack at a time when they feel we are too weak to defend ourselves. Our economy must be maintained with a strengthened program of unemployment insurance and action must be taken to maintain a healthy economy for all parts of the country. Also programs such as the farm program, the national highway program, and a depressed area program must be maintained.

A Statement From George Feltner

This letter is an attempt to explain my position in the forthcoming election. Several issues vitally important to the residents of Hazard are to be decided on November 4th by the voters. One of the more important problems is the proposed bond issue. Prior to a discussion of this, let me first emphatically state that no person in Hazard recognizes the dire need that our town has for a sewage treatment plant any more than I do. We need one; we must have one. But no resident of Hazard can afford to vote for the proposal that will be submitted on Nov. 4th.

First of all, let me explain that the records will show that I voted for this proposal to be submitted. But please understand that was not a vote for the proposition as drawn up by our city manager, but was merely a vote favoring this proposition being submitted for a vote and a decision by all of the voters of Hazard. A decision of this magnitude should not only be according to law, but as a moral right, be placed in the hands of the voters themselves. It is my firm and sincere belief that after due consultation with various and sundry people, that we can have a disposal plant without subjecting us to unlimited taxation. Every voter must bear in mind that regardless of what the city officials tell you will probably be the rate of taxation, that the proposal itself says "unlimited taxation," and further it sets forth that it is mandatory under the Kentucky Constitution to provide for the levying of a special and separate annual tax upon all property subject to taxation.

I am sure that all of us would like to believe the city manager when he says that in spite of the unlimited taxation powers, that it would be kept to a minimum. We still must remember that several months ago, the city manager explained an ordinance which was subsequently passed (over my vote) that the new ordinance merely would raise the assessment and not the taxes. Yet everyone who has received their new tax notice is aware that in spite of his glib story, the taxes were raised a flat twenty per cent on every property owner. Perhaps the city officials, and the clique that they adhere to, own property outside the city limits which they are interested in selling because it appears that they are trying to drive the residents outside the corporation by taxing them so much that it forces a move out of the city limits.

Our town pays more taxes than any other town of comparable size, and receives less in benefits and services. We pay a special automobile tax (in addition to the regular property tax for ownership of an automobile). We pay to have our garbage picked up and we are presently paying a tax of twenty per cent of our water bill for sewer service, which is beyond doubt the poorest in the state. All of this in addition to paying a very high tax for ownership of property located within city limits.

I think it is within the common knowledge of every citizen in Hazard, that our officials for years have been controlled by a small, powerful group. In this forthcoming election, it is my personal opinion that in spite of statements rendered by various candidates, that we have only two men that are not controlled by the same group and who are independent and progressive in their thinking. Only two men who want to see Hazard grow for the benefit of all the people and not just for the monetary enrichment of a limited few. These two men over the years have proven themselves to be solid, substantial, and upright citizens. To erase any doubt from anyone's mind as to whom I mean, these men are Don Fouts and Robert Ken Terry.

As God is my witness, and most people know, I have tried to do the best to the utmost limits of my ability to make a good City Commissioner. Not for a few people, but for all the people. For these reasons, I sincerely beg and urge every citizen and resident of Hazard to think carefully and deeply of the issues that face them when they cast their vote on November 4th. Go to the polls and vote for Don Fouts and Robert Ken Terry, and reject the bond proposal that is submitted. I promise that I will exert every ounce of energy and power to provide for a sewage disposal plant for Hazard, but not under the terms that are presently proposed.

I wish to make it clear that I have no personal animosity toward either of the other two candidates, and have a personal friendship toward them. Yet after very careful deliberation, I feel that Don Fouts and Robert Ken Terry are the only two candidates who feel like myself, and try to do the most for all of the people, instead of a limited few.

Respectfully submitted this 28th day of October, 1958.

Good Services At Gospel Church

Faith either removes mountains or tunnels through.

The Palermo Brothers were at the Fourseam Gospel Church, October 22. It sure was a good service and the church house was nearly full of people which we were thankful for. You folks who didn't get a chance to hear the Palermos at the different churches and over the radio really missed something real good. Their records are for sale at the Christian Book Store.

The greatness of our faith shows us how little is our faith. Our Sunday School attendance was very good again last Sunday at the Fourseam Gospel Church. So come on folks and let's make our Sunday School attendance go higher.

Rev. Oscar Johnson and his wife will be at the Fourseam Gospel Church on November 2, at 6:30 p. m. They are from Minnesota and they are very good singers. Rev. Johnson will preach that night at the Fourseam Gospel Church.

Even the turtle gets nowhere until it sticks its neck out. It is not the good we know but the good we sow that counts.

Good Revival Meeting Ends

Mrs. Lizzie Banks has been ill since the shock of the sudden death of her grandson, Elbert Bradley, a few weeks ago. We are glad Mrs. Banks is feeling some better now.

Sunday night our revival in the Berean Baptist Church ended. We had a good week of meetings, good messages, and one convert. The women of the church gave Rv. and Mrs. Gibson a lot of home canned foods. A love offer of $50.00 in money, was also given by those present at the meetings. The Gibsons are from Cleveland, Ohio.

Arco Miniard, wife and two sons, called at my home for a short visit Sunday afternoon. Also visiting my family Sunday, was Albert Watkins, Mrs. Watkins and daughter from Pine Mountain.

Friday night, Oct. 31, there will be a Halloween Carnival at the Leatherwood School given by the P.T.A.

Navajos Win 33-13 Over Elkh'n City

A 21-point performance by Fullback Kidd Fugate paced the M. C. Napier Navajos to a 33-13 victory, Tuesday night, over Elkhorn City in a game that closed out the season for the locals.

With Fugate blasting for a 35 yard run and three extra-points, and End Harold Eversole tabbing aials for the other two markers, Napier rolled to it's fourth and final victory of the season in brilliant fashion. The Navajos close out their campaign with 5 losses.

Fugate smashed over for his first touchdown in the initial frame on a 12 yard run, and then got two more in the third quarter, going for the first on

EKMC Crown At Stake Saturday

With the conference all-time scoring record now in the hands of the Hazard High School Bulldogs, the charges of Coach Jim Caudill, Saturday night, go after the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference crown, Saturday night, when they engage the Fleming-Neon Pirates here. A victory over Fleming will bring the conference title to the Bulldogs.

Thanks to an assistant from the Jenkins Cavaliers who thumped previously unbeaten Belfry 35-6 last week, a victory over Fleming will bring the conference title to Hazard.

Just how the Bulldogs will fare against Fleming-Neon is another question.

Although boasting but a 5-4 record for the season, the Pirates are a team that can never be counted out.

Fleming is in the novel position this year of having an exceptionally light backfield. Heaviest man is 170 pound Daniel Tackett, a two-letter converted end, rated by his coach as All-Conference material. Tackett directs the Pirate offense.

Coach Jack Hall is also high on Fullback Danny Quillen, a 155-pound lad with speed and power. The halfbacks are James "Peanut" Hill, 130 pounds, and either Roger Elkins, 155 pounds or Gary Sergeant, 135 pounds. Hall and Elkins lettered last year.

Key man in the Pirate's line, according to Hall, a former University of Arizona star, is right tackle Harold Tackett, 210 pound senior and the only Fleming player with three letters. Center is Ile Horton, 195 pound, 6-3 sophomore.

Hall has his veterans on the right side of the line with Tackett. Kenneth Slusher, 172-pound end, and Jerry Rains, 160 pound guard, both seniors, lettered last year. The left side is anchored with non-lettermen, including Clester Isaac, 155-pound guard, Ernest Johns, 210-pound tackle, and Johnny Little, 160-pound end.

For Hazard, it's the same starting line-up that has carried the Bulldogs to a 7-1 record to date.

Only an upset win by Fleming-Neon can separate the Bulldogs from the title.

The conference scoring crown came to Hazard last week when the Bulldogs thrashed Leslie County 55-6 with the state's leading scorer, Astor "Cat" Sizemore increasing his total to 154 points in eight outings.

The old record was held by Paintsville's Frankie Patton — 144 points set in the 1956 season over a run of ten games.

Saturday night's game is being boomed as "Dad's" night for the fathers of Hazard players, Willie Dawahare, president, Hazard Booster's Club, announced this week.

A pre-game ceremony will include presentation of a trophy to the winning football team in the Little League conference. At half-time, fathers of Hazard players will be introduced from the field by Dawahare.

A Statement From Don C. Fouts

To Voters of City of Hazard

In the two previous issues of The Hazard Herald I outlined what I would be for if elected Commissioner next Tuesday. I now wish to state what I shall be opposed to, if elected:

1. If elected I shall vigorously oppose formation of "cliques" in our City Government. I feel that the Commissioners and Mayor should think independently and in that way arrive at decisions for the benefit of the majority of the people.

2. I shall oppose any increase in taxes, hidden or otherwise. I shall also be for putting the assessed valuation back where it was before the "blanket" raise put on. I feel that if the affairs of the city are economically and fairly handled the present income is sufficient.

3. I shall be opposed to the city harrassing, out-of-town shoppers. I feel that when a large crowd is in town and all available parking places, both in the parking lots and on the streets are taken that courtesy cards should be placed on cars rather than have wreckers remove the cars from Main Street.

4. I shall oppose the city government "trying" to force city employees to support their candidates under threats of losing their jobs. I feel that said employees should hold their jobs on the merit of their work and be permitted to vote for whom they please.

5. I shall vigorously oppose hap-hazard buying of city supplies. I feel that the city should buy their supplies as carefully and economically as any privately owned company. I also feel that all supplies took and equipment should be kept on inventory and accounted for.

6. I shall oppose permitting the "danger hazard", at the intersection of Davis Street and the by-pass to continue. I feel that a "stop" light should be installed before we have a bad accident, rather than after, children of school age do not realize danger. I feel we have been fortunate not to have had an accident before now.

7. I shall oppose keeping Lovern Street, one way. I feel that two-way traffic onto Main Street should be given a 30-day trial, then if it is not good, return it to one-way traffic.

8. I shall oppose spending the majority of the tax money where it will benefit a few and shall fight for it to be spent where it will benefit the most people possible.

9. I shall oppose the continuation of the policy of creating ill-will among different groups and sections of our people and city. I would like for all the people to feel that they have a voice in our city government.

I would especially like to see the ladies of our city take a more active interest in our city government.

10. I shall vigorously oppose the taxpayer's money being spent to help promote favorite enterprise under the guise of "progress." My idea of a progressive city is a city where all the people "who make an effort" are able to make progress and live better.

Now, having given a true outline of the policies I shall be for and against, I earnestly solicit the votes of all the people who concur in my way of thinking.

I feel that all who know me are sure that I will make a sincere effort to do what I think is right on any issue that may come before me.

With the best wishes and kindest regards for all who support and oppose me,

I am,
Sincerely,
—DON C. FOUTS.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

4-H Camp Committee Meets At London

Paul Keen, County Agricultural Extension Agent
John Caudill, Associate County Extension Agent

Mrs. Fred Cornett and Mrs. R. E. Cunningham, of the Perry County 4-H Advisory Council, and John Caudill, Associate County Agent, attended a meeting of the J. M. Feltner 4-H Camp Committee held at London on Oct. 28.

The organization is dedicated to build a large modern 4-H Camp at Levi Jackson State Park.

The purpose of the meeting was to lay plans for a fund raising campaign. Approximately $350,000.00 will be needed to construct the camp. A goal has been set to camp on the new camp site in 1959 provided essential buildings and facilities can be constructed. A sum of $7,300.00 will be needed shortly if this goal is to be met. The committee has approximately $12,000.00 in the treasury, and will need approximately $55,000.00 to meet this initial goal.

Board Calls 14 For Induction

Fourteen Perry Countians have been called for induction and 15 for pre-induction physicals on Nov. 4, Local Board No. 81, Selective Service System, announced today.

For induction: Gran Noble, Lawrence Melton, Matt Collins, Homer Williams, Arthur Shepherd Jr., Archie Halcomb, Gen. Marshall Jr., Lawrence Walker, William Lee Sizemore, Coy Polard, Edward Reed, Beecher Wilson, Fred White and Thomas Hiram Combs.

For pre-induction physicals: Paul Anderson Jones, James Coeburn Gross, William Ray Davis, R. ay Lee Collins, Harrison Kennedy Walker, James Neace, Frank Carol Fallon, Arlis Davis, Raleigh Couch, Lloyd Holbrook, D. exter Grigsby, William Couch Jr., Vernice Caudill, Larry Smith and Clifford Taylor.

Counties represented at the meeting discussed plans they had for raising funds through 4-H Club activities. They ranged from light bulb sales, candy sales, fish fry, rummage sales, to donkey basketball games, showing movies, pie suppers, radio marathon and 4-H Club talent shows.

Perry County has a goal of $1,000.00 to be raised by Feb. 1st. The Perry County 4-H Advisory Council will be sponsoring a light bulb sale, 4-H talent show and showing movies as a means of meeting this quota. There are approximately 6,000 boys and girls between ten and twenty years of age in Perry County. Helping build this camp will be making a real investment in the youth of Perry County.

Plans for raising $20,000.00 by the 20 County area by Feb. 1st, were laid. Approximately 10 acres of forest on the camp site will be cruised and offered for sale shortly.

The directors voted to put out a brochure describing the layout of the camp and the needed facilities.

Persons on the committee were designated to contact large potential donors within their counties.

The committee plans to meet back early in January to check on progress being made.

Do You Want FACT or FICTION?

I want to go on record as saying that I too would like a tax cut in my city, State and National taxes. WHO WOULDN'T?

But before we talk "tax cuts," let's examine some of the other points in this campaign.

Like YOU, it seems to me that I pay more than my share of taxes.

But also like YOU, I want some of the better things in life while I live—not when I'm gone. I want adequate national defense, the best roads, the finest schools and all the other services of our Federal and State governments.

YOU know and I know these must be paid for. The taxes we pay the State are returned to us in State services; the taxes we pay the Federal government come back to us in Federal services.

That same is true of our town—Hazard. If we are to be the "Beacon" town for our mountains, then we must go forward—and not backward. Time has proved to mankind that we don't stand still.

Your garbage tax may seem like a burden. But would you rather do without the tax and have Hazard looking like a garbage dump? Do you want to move backwards?

Two candidates have told you they want our streets kept in good repair, our water system maintained, our system maintained, and fire plugs for the entire city. I agree. We need these and a lot more. We need better housing. We need sidewalks. We need a public recreation program. We need more water lines, streets paved, hills opened up.

But let's not be misled. Let's stop and think. These same two men want to repeal the city auto tax and the garbage tax.

Now I ask you. Do you want your city services curtailed—possibly even stopped altogether. No! None of us want that. We want to move forward and take our proper place as the shopping, cultural and entertainment center of Eastern Kentucky. Believe me, you know that to do this, it is necessary that we have money. I have no false promises. I am not going to promise you more services and less taxes. I am not going to talk out of both sides of my mouth, and I know and you know, that a promise like that is an insult to your intelligence.
